1921

UGH.

LAIDA

The

RD,

RE.

AD.

9.

Kiss.

ERTS

Successor rightsholder unk reaches the epicurean banquets of London. Another string subject is that dealing with the East Essex game at Wivenhoe, near Colchester, from which a large number of shooting estates are restocked with pheasants and duck, hatched and reared on the farm. A screen article famous danseuse, which includes Miss Allan in some of the classic dances.

* * *

Concern Kenneth Graeme Film Company, a new producing subjects, is at the moment paying special attention to short subjects. There are to be fifty-two of these comedies, deal with "The Adventures of Mr. Pusher Long," a subject in press agent. Dawn Meredith is to be the leading this first series.

this first series.

A well-known figure in producing circles, and has for well-known figure in producing circles, and has for years been manager of a prominent manufacturing His second in comand, P. C. W. King, is also with such important firms as Ruffells, Ross, Butcher, the will be responsible for the technical side.

hewill be responsible for the technical side.

ledies company will not confine its attention solely to the company will not confine its attention solely to the production of a six-reel romance by Cedric D. Fraser.

entitled "M'Lord o' the White Road," and deals beriod 1700-1750.

* * *

Rains, who tells me that he is now in his sixteenth as a film producer, is just back from Aberystwyth, the he he has been finishing the exteriors of "Land of My ducing a Welsh drama, for George Leyton, of the Glen be taken in town, which will complete the film.

Thomas Canning, the typical aristocrat of the British screen, is naturally included in the cast of Mr. Stuart Blackton's romantic film, "The Glorious Adventure," and this is quite as it should be, since the story is one which deals with great personages and high places. Mr. Canning tells me that Mr. Blackton will be the fifty-fourth producer he has worked for, and this will be his 141st film.

Bryan Powley is playing in Miss Marie Löhr's new production, "Her Destiny," at Portsmouth this week.

A new film comedian, Max Gionti, has been engaged for a new series of six one-reel comedies, which are being produced by Mr. Geoffrey Malins, for Kinema Expansions, Limited. These deal with the eccentric experiences of a series of comedy characters, whose names are household words in England, but which I am not permitted to divulge at the moment.

The lady star in the series will be Miss Ena Beaumont, and the whole six are being produced either up the river, or at the seaside. The first two are practically finished.

Miss Maudie Dunham, the popular film star whose engagement to Mr. George Horfon has just been announced, returns to Holland on Saturday (July 2nd) to take up the leading rôle in a new photoplay for Granger-Binger productions.

Kenelm Foss is at present busy on "The Wonderful Year," by W. J. Locke. The two leading parts are played by Mary Odette and Lionelle Howard, and other prominent rôles are filled by Randle Ayrton, Gwen Williams; Margot Drake, Frank Stanmore and Hubert Carter (from His Majesty's Theatre and of "Scallywag" fame).

HYGIENIC FAN for CINEMAS.

The Smoke Cure

Two Machines will clear the Smoke from a Cinema seating 1,500 People.

Can be fixed to any wall without structural alteration.

For prices and full particulars apply to PARLEYS,

171, LIVERPOOL ROAD, WARRINGTON

